Among the committees that reported was the Judiciary Committee that reported back Senate Bill No. 66, and the Finance Committee that reported back Senate Bill No. 70: The Committee on Roads and Navigation reported a bill in response to a resolution, entitled an act to keep in repair the county roads of the State.

Senator Stollings offered the following:
Resolved. That the Committee on Public Printing inquire into and investigate the manner in which the advertising and letting the contract for public printing, binding and furnishing stationery, &c., for the use of the State and for the current use of the present session of the Legislature was consummated; whether the advertisement of proposals for said printing, binding, &c., and the bids on said proposals and the letting of the contract was in accordance with the law; what the contract price was for the years 1879 and 1880, and what the present contract price 880, and what the present contract price s; whether the youthers and certificates us; whether the voucners and certificates upon which payments have been made under the contract for the years 1879 and 1880, and for the years 1881 and 1882 are in accordance with the law and correct, if incorrect the amount of over charges or under charges therein and any other matters countered. therein, and any other matters connected therewith, and what legislation, if any is reported back with sundry amendments Speaker Wilson's bill to regulate freight charges on the railroads. WINDY WILSON'S WEAKNESS, Speaker Wilson called Judge Ferguson to the chair, which meant business.

He then moved to make the bill and amendments the special order for consideration on Friday, just after the reports of committees, and made a characteristic speech in favor of his motion, going into the merits of the bill, and aliuding in rounded periods and with much animation to the "grinding extortions of these cursed monopolies."

Judge Morrow moved an amendment to the motion, by substituting Monday for Friday.

Mr. Moffett moved to amend the amendment by making the day for consideration of the matter Friday week.

Speaker Wilson: "An amendment to the amendment is not in order!"
Mr. Moffett: "Oh, I think I know when I am in order. I think I do."

Judge Ferguson, presiding, ruled that the motion was in order.

"Yes," said Wilson, from his seat on the floor, "the amendment is all right."
Mr. Moffett then went on to decry the disposition to what he considered undue haste. This question involves grave considerations of policy, and mooted constitutional questions. It was now engrossing the minds of the leading thinkers of the country, and the Speaker did not the country, and the Speaker did not
